

Invites you to attend an evening with

Professor David Caple

Past President of the International Ergonomics Association (IEA) from 2006-2009

Exploring “Safe Design for Plant & Equipment” and updates on “The International Human Factors Scene”

“No wonder your arm aches. Shackles should be placed at eye level. Man, it’s an ergonomic nightmare down here.”

Melbourne based, Prof. David Caple established one of the first independent management consulting groups in Australia specialising in Ergonomics and Occupational Health & Safety. He has provided consulting, training, research and legal services to clients within Australia and overseas. Prof. Caple has provided services to a wide range of industry sectors including airlines, automotive manufacturing, detention centres, hospitals, mining, off shore oil & gas exploration, retail, transport and universities.

Date: Monday, 29 March 2010
Venue: Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital, Q Block, Room 4
Enter from Monash Avenue roundabout, go to end of road.
Q block is a single storey redbrick building.
Ticketed visitor parking is on left side of road in row closest to building.
Time: 5:00pm – 7:00 pm (including drinks and nibbles)

Members – Free Non Members - $15 for receipted attendance (please complete the registration form attached and return it to Pauline at secretariat@ergonomics.org.au)

HFESA members please RSVP to sarah.adams@recovre.com.au by Friday 26 March 2010

Please forward this invite to your work colleagues, customers and interested parties
– All welcome!